The following extract from Mr. Robinson's Pre-face to his Second Volume, will give some idea of its

The Nashville revellers were not content with offering up the President's civic renown, to advance the glory and interest of the Judge—they resolved to make a military chieftain of his Tennessee rival, and crown him with laurels overshadowing all those acquired by the blood of the stripling shed in the Revolution, or by the toils and dangers of the veteran who conquered new States and Territories for the Union in the South, and preserved the key to the whole Valley of the Mississippi. The illustrious Judge was pronounced, par excellence, "Tennessee's favorite son—Distinguished in the Field and in the Seath and then there wis, in The illustrious Judge was pronounced, par excenence, "Tennessee's favorite son.—Distinguished in the Field and in the Senate"—and then there wis, in honor of the great martial achievements which made him "Tennessee's favorite son," the most eclipsing military parade ever witnessed. Nothing ever came martial, achievements which made him "Tennessee's favorite son," the most eclipsing military parade ever witnessed. Nothing ever came matrix is any the chroniclers, "except on the reception of General Lafayette." It lasted for days. "On Wednesday afternoon, the Nashville Guards marched out and escontant into town the Frank-lin and Columbia companies. The Artillery company was preceded by a piece of ordinance, drawn by four beautiful. We have been thus particular in giving the latest and most approved receipt for making a hero and patriot, in-assumen as it entirely succeeded—and a man who had never seen a field of battle or the face of an enemy, was, by the process, instantly transformed into a hero, in whose presence the military renown of Jackson was altogether formatten, and in the collaboration of the formatten, and in the collaboration of the second of the gether forgotten, and in the celebration of whose triumph no parallel could be found in the displays of national gratitude, but in the case of the great and good Lafay-

No—It was necessary effectually to aggrandize the new Tennessee Hero, that the old one should be disparaged. Gen. Then, again, all him was repeated in different forms; as, "the freedom of elections," "untrammelled by Executive patronage"—then the President's words were paraphrased, about delegates fresh from the People, and turned into "fresh from the intriguers of official power." In a word, almost the whole fury of the dinner, of which Judge White's military overture was the precursor, was directed to glorify Judge White and degrade the President of glorify Judge White and degrade the President And yet, with the usual disguise of ambuscade enemies, the men who prepared this opportunity to assail him, under the pretence of doing honor to his friends! seek to conceal their real design by paying to the President personally, the compliment of a toast—but they do it in such a way, as to discover to their allies of the Opposition, the deadly healthly they bear him. They first tast GEORGE WASHINGTON in capitals—then JAMES MADI SON in the control of the constitution is a par

The great applause accorded by these Brutuses—(Judge Kennedy, the giver of the Brutus toast, was an invited guest,) was the thought which this parody of the speech of Brutus, in the tragedy of Julius Cusar, suggested—"Respect for his talents—honor for his services—love for his virtues"—taken in connexion with the idea by which the sentiment is introduced and the idex by which the sentiment is introduced and pointed, about spurning dictation, makes quite a smart parody for the famous climax, "tears for his love—joy for his farture—honor for his valor, but death for his ambilion." The whole proceeding of these Tennessee patriots was in the Brutus vein. While revelling, as they fondly supposed, in the ruin of Gen. Jackson's reputation and popularity, they were anxious, by some show of kindness, to draw the public sympathies to their side and so we have in the toast the cant and affectation of the stage Brutus—"as Casar loved me, I weep for him; as the strengt of Bell & Co., to sustain the movement of Calhoun and White on the subject of patronage at the last session, by a vote of the State Legislature, its strengt to support Judge White's vote against the three million appropriation, under the new pretext that it was not specific, was roted down.

applause from the spoils party of the table.)
But the most characteristic toost was that of the manager of this political drams, John Bell.
Enter Double-face.
By the Hon John Bell—Our Country and its Institutions—The destination of both hangs upon the triumph of the principles upon which Judge White is supported, and the enerthree of the maxime and practices of the Opposition.

What is meant by "the overthrow of the maxims and practices of the Opposition?" The honest Democracy of Tennessee by "the Opposition," understand the party opposed to the President's Administration—but honest John Bell knew that "the Opposition" would know that he meant the Opposition opposed to Judge White, which, as it composed of the mass of the Democratic party in every State of the Union, makes his toast express a determination to support those eardinal doctrines and wish "for the overthrow of the maxims and practices of the Republican party"—which is precisely the event ne-cessary to give the mastery to that faction, to which the ex-Speaker owed his election, and to which he looks for all future promotion.—Globe.

county of Chesterfield, eight miles above Richmond, and within a half mile of James River, containing 550 acres, of about equal portions of cleared and wood land. This Farm has been so improved by careful management and the use of clover and plaster, that nearly the whole of it now produces clover kindly. About 20 acres are good creek meadow, a part of which is in herd's grass and produces fine crops. The wood has just been cleared away from 50 acres of good tobacco land, which may be brought into cultivation with very little labor.—
The wood land is valuable from its contiguity to the River, and the facility with which the wood can be carried to Richmond. The wood is worth 80 cents per cord as it stands on the land, and contracts for the sale of several hundred cords at that price annually, can now be made. The improvements are nearly new, and sufficient for the comfortable accommodation of a family. The situation is healthy and the water fine. During

WALUABLE APPOMATTOX LAND FOR SALE.

The subscriber is authorised by the legaters and the subscriber is authorised by the legaters and the subscriber and the subscriber, living at the Kanawha Salines, on Saturday the 3d instant, a negro man named Robers, (naually called Boh.) about 40 years of age, 5 feet 3 or 10 inches high, quite thin or spare, and very black; sharp nose and chin, and forehead quite high, or inclined to baldness.—
How alking, he stoops forward, and steps very long; supposed to wear a black fur hat, blue coat, and perhaps boots. It is thought that he is making his way to the City of Richmond, near which place he was raised, by a Mr. Thompson, (as is believed,) and by whom he claims that he was emancipated. He was sold in the county of Mason, a few years ago, as a runaway slave, for juil fees, and is now the property of Blackwell Chillon, Esq., of this county. The above reward will be given for his apprehension and delivery to me, if taken beyond Kanawha and $25 if taken in either of those counties.

ALUABLE APPOMATTOX LAND rou Sale.
The subscriber is authorised by the legaters and heirs of Edward Dillon, dec'd., to sell that portion of the Sandy Ford Tract of Land, which lies in the county of Cumberland, on the north side of Appomattox river, and adjoining the lands of Messrs. James and Francis Anderson, and Col. N. Penick. This portion of the Sandy Ford Tract contains, by survey, 520 acres—180 of which are first rate low grounds, and about 200 acres in woods, the balance cleared high land. It is situated in a most healthy country, in the midst of fine society, being distant from Hampden Sidney College about eight miles, from Farmville four miles, and Rames' Tavern six miles. This tract is considered to be not inferior in quality to any tract of its size on the river. Persons disposed to purchase, can apply to my brother, Richard M. Dillon, for information relating to the situation of the property and the terms of sale.

I will also sell a Tract containing 250 acres, lying in the county of Halifax, on the main Stage road leading from the Court-House to Coles' Ferry, and adjoining the lands of Dr Lynn, Mrs. Roberts, and Wm. Bruce. This tract contains about 30 acres creek low grounds, and about one hundred acres of wood land. Persons disposed to purchase, can ascertain the terms, by applying in person to the subscriber, or by directing their letters to him at Farmville, Prince Edward. The sons of Mrs.

BOANOKE LAND FOR SALE,—Designing to make the continuation of the South-West, I propose to sell the following valuable real estate: One tract of land, lying on the South side of Roanoke River, in the counties of Mecklenburg, Virginia, and Warren, North Carolina, 25 miles above Weldon and 16 above Wilkins' Ferry, containing 1,300 acres; of which, about 600 are bottom, of superior quality—100 in original wood, and first rate plant land. Of the high land, about 100 acres only have been cleared; the balance is leavily timbered, and of good quality for the production of wheat and tobacco. The improvements embrace every building necessary for a quarter plantation—mostly new, and in good order. The tobacco barns are unusually good, built chiefly within the three years has past, and sufficient to secure a crop of 60,000 pounds. I can, with confidence, pronounce this one of the very best estates on the Roanoke, of its extent, and few, if any, are in so good a situation—and I know it to be remarkably healthy, having resided on it, with my family, for two years. My Physician's bills for attendance on more than 60 negroes, have not exceeded 40 dollars for the last five years.

Bloomsbury, my place of residence, lying on the waters of Smith's Creek, Warren county, N. Carolina, 8 miles West of the town of Warrenton, and 10 from Roanoke River, containing 1,500 acres. About one-half of this tracts in wood, and a fair proportion, say 240 acres, fine tobacco hand. There are also 60 acres of highly-improved cotton lots, and 40 to 50 acres of freek bottom. The introduction of the provision of the provision cotton lots, and 40 to 50 acres of creek bottom. The improvements are very extensive, well arranged, and slight repairs now being made, will put them in good order. The situation is pleasant, and the neighborhood agreeable.

One other tract, lying within half a mile of the Court-House of that large and wealthy county. Mecklenburg, Va., containing seven hundred and eighty-eight acres. The greater portion of this land is standing in original wood, and about one-half is of good quality, well adapted to the production of wheat and tobacco. It would furnish an agreeable and convenient residence to any greatly many having white the cheater. gentleman having children to educate, being within a few minutes' walk of that flourishing Institution, Randolph Macon College, and a female school of high standing in Boydton.—Further description of these lands is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed that those persons disposed to purchase will view them. Mr. Daniel T. Hicks will treat for the tract near Boydton.—Bad health obliges me to seek a milder climate and I am the school of the second o obliges me to seek a milder climate, and I am, therefore, resolved on selling.—Letters addressed to me at Warrenton, N. Carolina, will receive prompt attention.
